

LOVED RABBI PASSESAWAY

END COMES FOR REVERED JEW. ISH PRIEST

FUNERAL SERVICES TO BE HELD TOMORROW

Man Who Did Much Good During a Lifetime of Service Leaves Many to Mourn Him

The death of Rabbi A. W. Edelman yesterday has caused widespread sorrow among his many relatives and friends. Rabbi Edelman was one of the most widely known pastors in Southern California.

He died at the family home at 1018 Elden avenue yesterday at about 1 o'clock in the afternoon, after an illness of four weeks.

He was born in Poland and at the time of his death was 75 years of age.

He obtained his education in the rabbinical schools and was married at the age of 19 years in his native land. Rabbi Edelman, with his wife, came to this country in 1862, first residing at Paterson, N. J., and later at Buffalo, N. Y.

They came to San Francisco in 1861, and in 1882 the rabbi was called to Los Angeles to organize and take charge of the B'nai B'rith congregation.

The first services were held in the Arcadia block, Los Angeles and Arcadia streets, continuing there until the synagogue was built in 1872 on the site now occupied by the Copp building. In 1896 the rabbi participated in the dedication of the present B'nai B'rith synagogue.

Served Twenty-five Years
Rabbi Edelman continued as rabbi for about twenty-five years and then resigned. For the past twenty years he has had no regular congregations but has officiated gratuitously for the various Jewish congregations with the endeavor to build them up.

In early times he was the only rabbi in this part of the country, and owing to his genial and charitable nature he was called at nearly all the old-time weddings and at various other functions to which he was called.

He was a great friend of the Catholic priests, who practically reigned supreme in the early days. Among them were Bishop Morán, Bishop Peter Verdaguer, now bishop of Texas, formerly known as "Father Peter," and later Bishops Montgomery and Conaty.

He was a close adherent to the orthodox Jewish faith and yet was always very liberal in his ideas and was always friendly with all other religious denominations.

A Writer of Note
Rabbi Edelman had been a frequent contributor to the columns of The Herald and other Los Angeles newspapers on Jewish religious topics.

He was a member in high standing of the Masons, Odd Fellows, Ancient Order of United Workmen, Pioneer society and several Jewish and non-partisan organizations.

About one year ago he donated the greater part of his private library to the Los Angeles public library, embracing a rare collection of Hebrew, Talmudic and other works. This library is now in the library here as the Edelman collection. Within the past few weeks Rabbi Edelman made a donation of $2500 to the Hebrew Benevolent society and a donation of $2500 to the Los Angeles Jewish Ladies' Benevolent society for the establishment of a permanent fund to be known as the Edelman memorial fund, with a promise of an additional $2500 to each of these societies, making $10,000 in all, to be fulfilled by his heirs.

Mrs. Edelman, who was a great worker with her husband in his religious and charitable work, died eleven years ago.

Leaves Large Family
The following sons and daughters survive the rabbi: Mrs. H. J. Jacoby, Mrs. W. T. Barnett and Dr. H. W. Edelman of Los Angeles; Ben. W. Edelman of Omaha; A. M. Edelman of San Francisco; and Henry W. Edelman of Seattle. The grandchildren are: N. H. Jacoby of Seattle, Mrs. Morse Silver of New York city, Mrs. Hugo Brandels of Omaha and L. W. Barnett of Los Angeles.

With the exception of Mrs. Edelman, these relatives will come from all parts of the country to attend the funeral. The sons and daughters were at the bedside at the time the rabbi passed away.

The funeral will be held at the Temple B'nai B'rith, corner Ninth and Hope streets, tomorrow at 1 p. m. Rabbi Hecht will officiate. The interment will be in the Home of Peace cemetery.

Cures Woman's Weaknesses.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. John F. Pierce, the Editorial Staff of THE ECLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Helonias dioica) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription":

"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator... makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system. Helonias in Helonias we have a medicament which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some of the symptoms of this remedial agent. Dr. Fife further says: 'The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root): Pain (weak) condition of the reproductive organs of women; mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women; constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagia (blooded) due to a weak condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhea (suppressed or absent monthly period), arising from or accompanied by abnormal condition of the digestive organs and a general (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen.'"

If more or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than take Dr. Fife's Favorite Prescription. One of the leading ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the medicinal properties of which it most faithfully represents.

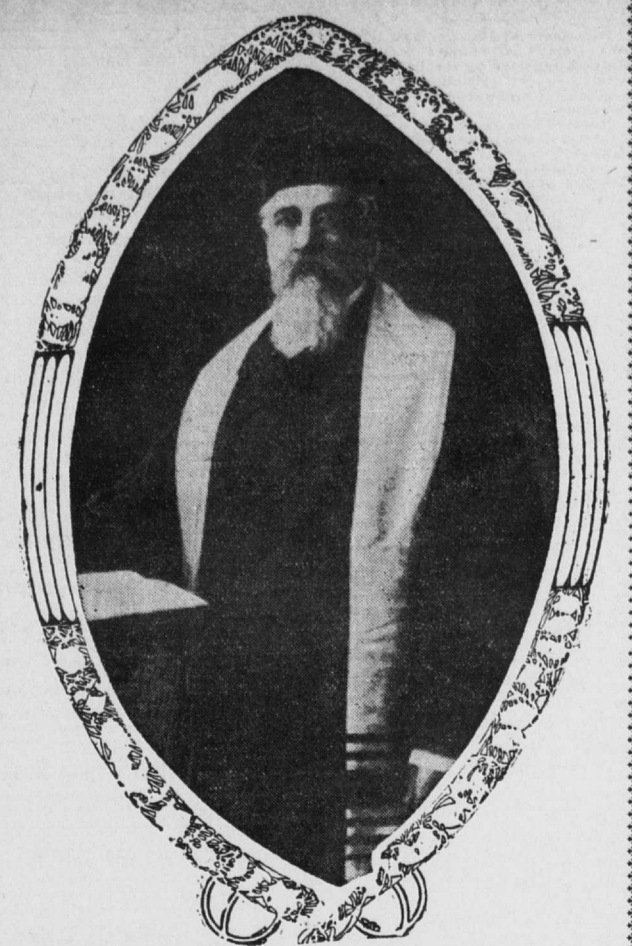

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says:

"It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb. In all catarrhs, conditions of the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

Prof. B. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal:

"Valuable in uterine hemorrhage, menorrhagia (blooded) and congestive dysmenorrhea (painful menstruation)."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription (faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

LED POSSE WHICH ENDED UTAH BANDITS' REIGN

Former Deputy Sheriff Bush of Salt Lake City, with Sixty Frontiersmen, Killed Fifteen of Cassidy's Gang and Captured Forty

Former Deputy Sheriff Joseph R. Bush, one of the brave men who cleaned the outlaw gang out of Utah after killing fifteen and sending many to prison, is in Los Angeles.

He led the posse which in 1900 completed a two years chase which wiped out the "Bunch" Cassidy outlaws. These desperadoes flourished late in the 90s. These bandits, made up of cattle rustlers, did not hesitate to hold up stages and to commit murder, and their number finally grew to 150.

Affairs got so desperate in the Mormon stronghold that Bush organized sixty brave men and took the trails after the outlaws.

When they finished their two years' roundup fifteen bad men were dead and forty were captured, all of them getting long terms in prison.

There was no outlawry in Southern Utah after that.

Mr. Bush has determined to make his home in Los Angeles.

INVITE ENGINEERS TO STUDY SMOKE NUISANCE

Health Department Asks Industrial Experts for Advice in Framing New Ordinance to Regulate Smoke Blanket

Hoping to get a perfect anti-smoke ordinance Los Angeles health officials will next week invite engineers of all big industrial establishments to meet in a conference, when a fair set of regulations will be drawn up for incorporation in the proposed ordinance.

The present ordinance permits smoky chimneys provided they are 125 feet high. No exceptions will be made in the new law.

Dr. L. M. Powers and committee say they want to get a law fair alike to the public and the industrial interests, hence the call for a conference.

AUTOMOBILES TO CARRY UNCLE SAM'S MAIL BAGS

IN SERVICE

Los Angeles to Be First City in the Country Where New Delivery Method Will Be Attempted

Postmaster Motley Flint is enthusiastic over the proposed new method of handling the mail in Los Angeles.

His plan is to facilitate the gathering of mail and its quick delivery to the railroad stations by means of an automobile service.

It will be the first system of its kind in the United States in gathering and delivering mail and it will be in vogue in the seventeenth city in the United States in point of postal importance.

Postmaster Flint said yesterday that he was working hard to catch up with his work necessarily delayed by his recent trip to Washington.

His first move in starting his automobile system will be to secure the loan of a standard automobile, fit it up with regular postal service appliances and have made experimental trips over the city.

If these experiments prove satisfactory they will open the way for action by the government in establishing a permanent system.

The experimental trips will begin in about two weeks, with the automobile in charge of a trusted employee of Uncle Sam.

Postmaster Flint emphasized his idea yesterday that the mail should be gathered and delivered in the quickest and best way possible, regardless of cost to the government in justice to the people depending upon the mail service.

The plans now being matured will aid materially in facilitating the handling of mail in the rapidly growing City of the Angels.

MURDER CHARGE SAPS STRENGTH OF WOMAN

Miss Williamson on Verge of Collapse While Awaiting Determination of Her Appeal for New Trial

Hoping for a favorable decision to her application for a new trial, Miss M. H. Williamson is on the verge of nervous prostration, due to the strain and uncertainty of her long wait.

Convicted of the murder of Richard S. Parry, whom she claimed had repeatedly insulted her, she was sentenced by Judge Smith in the superior court to serve twenty years' imprisonment at San Quentin. An appeal has been taken to the supreme court and argument was begun yesterday.

Deputy Attorney General Beebe, for the state, raised the point that the appeal was inoperative, as it did not show that notice of the appeal had been served on this district attorney.

Attorney Rush, for the defense, admitted that the transcript did not include the service of notice, as the state's attorney claimed, but said he was positive the service had been made. His motion to correct the record was sustained by the court.

CALIFORNIANS TO GO UP TO SANTA CRUZ TODAY

Will Put on Their Repertoire at the Northern Coast Resort for an Indefinite Season

The Californians, Los Angeles' own opera company, go north on the coast line to Santa Cruz this morning for an indefinite season, probably for four weeks at least. The organization's scenery and costumes for its entire repertoire will be taken and the company will open next Sunday night in "Robin Hood," which will be the first week's bill.

Tom Karl and Dillon M. Dewey, director and manager respectively of the company, went up last night, to be on the ground today and arrange quarters for the sixty odd singers and musicians carried.

The personnel of the company will remain almost exactly as it was here. There is some doubt about Robert Hosea's going, but otherwise the only changes are in some of the chorus people. Albert McGuckins will be the combined musical and stage director, with James Logan as stage manager.

While in Santa Cruz the company will rehearse several new operas, each of which will probably get a tryout of their making that popular watering place the theatrical "dog" of the state.

The company has a tentative offer to return to the Auditorium in September, but this has not been closed as yet, the management fearing a spell of hot weather then. A season in San Diego following the one in the north and a road tour are both under consideration.

COURT'S TEN DOLLAR FINE MAKES ENEMIES FRIENDS

Tony Protter and Nick Goldo paid $10 each as fines for disturbing the peace when arraigned in Police Justice Chamber's court yesterday. Tony and Nick are the Frenchmen who amused themselves Monday night by a spell of howling then. A season in San Diego following the one in the north and a road tour are both under consideration.

The men were in a penitent mood when taken to court and informed the justice they had settled their differences and would be good friends in the future.

H. R. Crow, a blind beggar, is being sought by the police, who are endeavoring to find Willie Ankers, a 15-year-old boy, who is said to be with the man. Ankers is said to have run away from his home some time ago. His parents are pointed to the police for aid in finding him. Some days ago word was sent to the detectives that a boy answering his description had been seen with Crow.

DARING THIEF INVADERS GUEST-CROWDED HOME

Attempts to Break Into Drawer Containing Valuables, but Is Foiled by Intricacy of the Lock

Daring work on the part of a "second story man" has been reported to the police and members of the detectives' bureau are doing all in their power to find him.

Early Tuesday night, while the home of Mrs. Jefferson Chandler, 1844 St. Andrews' place, was crowded with guests the robber broke into the house and ransacked all the rooms on the second floor.

So thoroughly did the thief perform his work that only one key drawer in the bureau and drawers in the rooms he entered was not opened.

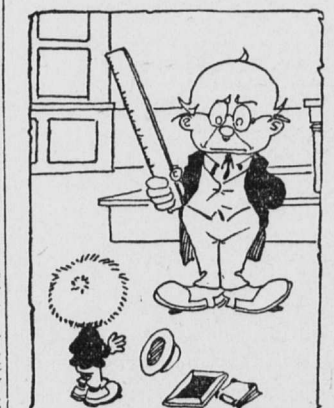

This drawer contained money and jewels exceeding $1000 in value. It is fitted with a special lock, which has only two keys, and these keys never leave the possession of Mr. and Mrs. Chandler.

The thief endeavored to force this drawer, but finding that impossible took keys from seven other drawers and tried to open the lock with them.

All the time he was at work Mrs. Chandler's guests were enjoying themselves with music and games in the downstairs rooms.

Several times guests visited the upper part of the house, but none of them noticed the thief. It is thought he was in the rooms all the time, but heard the guests coming and secreted himself.

In all the thief secured only $2 in money and five pairs of women's gloves. The detectives believe the robber was some former servant of Mrs. Chandler and knew where the jewels were kept.

Teacher—Johnnie, can't we find some remedy for your regular tardiness? Pupil—Well, they might move the school about a mile closer to my house.

If you want to go east, C. Haydock, Agent Illinois Central R. R., 118 W. 6th.
